

Use the following thoughts and questions to have one spiritual conversation. You can pick and choose, use them all or just allow the statement to be your guide. The emphasis shouldn't be about having all the answers, but simply having a conversation.

1. Opening Statement

Begin your conversation by asking about this statement:

We are called to salvation, service, and submission.

This statement is the biblical truth the student's study was built around. Each week there will be one statement that ties the whole study together. These would be great statements to remember together. The hope is that thoughts and ideas will stem from these statements. You can also begin by sharing a thought of your own that you learned during your study of the same lesson. Ask what thoughts were surprising as the study was taught.

2. Thought From the Study

God called Paul and Timothy and us to salvation and to service, and our response to this call will be reflected in our submission to the gospel of God's Word. Will we respond to the call with repentance and faith? Are we responding to the call in obedience to our mission to share this good news of Jesus' life, death, and resurrection on our behalf? Are we guarding—through the power of the Holy Spirit, in our words and our actions—the gospel call that rings out to all peoples, tribes, tongues, and nations? God has called. How will you respond?

How do you think God has gifted you to give glory to Him in your service to others?

3. Quote for Discussion

Discuss this quote together. How does this change your understanding of a relationship with Jesus?

“God calls externally through communication of the Word of God and internally as the Holy Spirit speaks inwardly to those who hear that communication. The external and internal calls operate together to deliver salvation to everyone who repents and believes.” –Kenneth Keathley

4. Conversation Questions

Use these questions to begin thinking through and applying the lessons to your family life:

1. Why is it important for our family to understand what God has called us to?
2. How has our family seen the gospel work powerfully?
3. How has God called our family to service and mission?
4. How has our family seen the Holy Spirit's power guard the gospel in our lives?
